Lefebvre enjoys a protected environment and a network free of threats thanks to SonicWall

Lefebvre deploys flawless protection against real-time and automated security threats with a centralized global management console.

Providing lawyers, companies and their advisors with solutions and actionable information, Lefebvre is known as an interface to innovation for professionals of the industry.

Business need

With close to 500 employees, Lefebvre was looking for flawless protection against next-generation threats that offered stronger secure gateways to protect the perimeter. The publishing company therefore needed greater infrastructure control and management, as well as a centralized global management console to manage all next-generation firewalls, while reducing maintenance costs.

Solution

To meet the company's needs, Lefebvre has deployed Network Security Appliance (NSa) next-generation firewalls in different locations and purchased licenses for Capture Client next-generation anti-malware.

With these solutions, Lefebvre has incorporated Capture ATP's multi-engine approach into SonicWall's next-generation firewalls to protect the network against next-generation threats and zero-day malware. They have also added RFDPI technology to analyze data packets, as well as DPI-SSL (deep packet inspection of SSL traffic) to decrypt encrypted traffic.

Benefits

By deploying the SonicWall solutions, Lefebvre has achieved:

- A better real-time and automated security threat detection and prevention to reduce risk exposure using Network Security Appliances.
- Synchronized security at the perimeter and on the users' endpoints using Capture Client.
- Greater cybersecurity awareness among Lefebvre's users, which has led to a drop in the number of IT support tickets.
